Purpose

- Youturn is committed to protecting the privacy of all individuals.
- Youturn requires our Board Members and workforce to respect and maintain the confidentiality of individuals and the organisation's business generally.
- This policy outlines how Youturn protects and handles all personal information in accordance with its obligations under the Australian Privacy Principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act).
- This policy applies to personal information for individuals that are external to Youturn such as donors, clients and suppliers.
- The policy outlines why and how personal information is collected and used and what processes are in place if any questions or complaints arise.
- When addressing the issue of privacy and confidentiality, our workforce will consistently apply the principles and procedures contained within this policy.
- This policy is designed to supplement, not replace, all existing laws, regulations, agreements and contracts that currently apply.
- Further information is contained in Youturn's Privacy and Confidentiality Statement which is available on our website: youturn.org.au

Definition

Personal Information

Information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable, whether the information or opinion is true or not and whether the information or opinion is recorded in a material form or not.

Principles

- Everyone who accesses our services has a right to expect that information held about them will remain private and confidential.
- All individuals will be provided with a copy of our Privacy and Confidentiality Statement upon commencing with our organisation.

- Collection and storage of personal information will only occur if it is necessary for functions or activities including effective service provision.
 - Our workforce will, if possible, provide a private and safe space to allow the discussion of information, of a sensitive or personal nature when individuals are accessing services.
 - Language used in individual's records will always be professional and appropriate.
 - Comments and assessments recorded will always be unbiased and non-judgemental.
 - Personal information will be kept secure and only authorised team members can gain access to such information.
 - All personal information will be kept up to date and checked for accuracy before it is used.
 - All members of our workforce are required to maintain confidentiality as outlined in confidentiality agreement contained in contract signed at commencement of employment.
 - Written consent is required from an individual prior to information sharing with other agencies.
 - Individuals can access information stored by Youturn through an application process to ensure it is accurate and is current.
 - All records are to be appropriately retained in accordance with legislative requirements, or safely destroyed, or transferred to a more appropriate agency, when they are no longer required by our service.
 - Our team members will have appropriate identification to allow individuals to identify team members.

Information Types

Personal information collected by Youturn may include:

- Contact details - name, address, email address and telephone number.
- Demographic information - age, gender, education, income and occupation.
- Banking details - bank account or credit card details for donors, suppliers of goods and services, or clients on a fee for service arrangement e.g. tenant rent payment in supported accommodation, registration fee for training course.
- For donors - details relating to donations and information relevant to the purpose of better identifying donor sources.

- Other information relevant to the purpose or providing services such as family and living circumstances, employment history, tenancy details e.g. rental history and tenancy reference checks, interests, feedback preferences, guardianship and kinship, service feedback and complaint details.
 - Image, video and sound recordings of individuals with specific permissions granted through the completion of Youturn Media Release Form.
 - Information associated with web browsing, email, text messaging, phone calls or other electronic interactions including phone number and user name.
 - Survey and questionnaire responses.

Sensitive Information

- As a subset of personal information, the Privacy Act imposes special obligations where sensitive information is collected, used and disclosed. Youturn may collect some forms of sensitive information, including details about:
 - gender, age, date of birth, criminal convictions, racial or ethnic origin including Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander status;
 - health, mental health and disability information; and
 - their particulars required, as part of our funding obligations and/or that are relevant for the proper provision of the services that we provide.
- Youturn will not collect sensitive information unless:
 - consent is provided (consent is implied through the provision of the information);
 - it is required by law; and
 - the information is reasonably necessary for one or more of our functions or activities.
- If Youturn holds any sensitive personal information, it will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which it was provided and directly related purposes and will not be used for any other purpose unless consent provided.

Anonymity

- Individuals are provided with the option to not identify themselves, or of using a pseudonym when dealing with us e.g. when seeking general information about services we offer.

- We do not provide this option in circumstances where it is impracticable to do so or where Youturn is legally required to deal with identified individuals only.

Collect and storage of information

Collection

- Where possible, personal information is collected directly from individuals by telephone, in person, via our website or by email, with consent at the time of interaction with us.
- Where consent to collection is sought, it is sought voluntarily and after individuals are informed of what they are consenting to.
- Our consent agreements are current, specific to the services provided and allows note any limitations.
- There are a number of other ways personal information may be collected, including information:
 - received from third parties where individuals are transferred or referred to us for the services that we provide;
 - transferred between our own services provided it relates to the primary purpose for which it was collected;
 - provided through our partner organisations, who operate our programs and provide services on our behalf;
 - from notifying organisations such as Emergency Services specifically in relation to about suicides (attempts and deceased);
 - collected automatically when you visit our website; and
 - from publicly available sources of information.

Storage

- Personal information is held in hard copy or electronic form.
- Hard copy records are required to be held securely in locked filing cabinets away from public areas with access to authorised team members only.
- Electronic records are in databases with security safeguards that control access with passwords and personal logins only accessible by our team members.

- Some of these databases are government controlled while others are held by third-party providers.
 - All electronic information is stored in secure Australian storage sites, predominantly utilising cloud technology.
 - Youturn takes all reasonable steps to protect personal information from loss, unauthorised access, modification, disclosure or other misuse.
 - The length of time information is stored for after an individual has ceased interacting with us will depend on the type of interaction and any requirements under law, for example in relation to health records.
 - Information will be de-identify or securely destroyed in accordance with our document retention policy when we no longer need to keep it.
